Postcards From the Ledge

The election of our next President, a Senator, and House Representatives is fast approaching at the Federal level as well as for those up for re-election at the State level.

It has, is, and will always be my viewpoint that the career we all enjoy, a career that's sole focus is on helping our clients provide the highest quality insurance products to themselves and those they may employ, exists solely on quality legislation passed at the State and Federal level.

With that, I implore all of you out there to take the time to call on your City, County, State, and Federal Representatives to serve as a resource to them during the election cycle and more so during their time as our elected officials. We will never know how valuable those relationships can be with them until we reach out and offer a viewpoint they may not ever receive. While we can always cut a check to a PAC fund, our time is of so much greater value!

Also, during this incredibly intense election cycle, offer your assistance to the local party affiliate of your choice by helping build yard signs, man a phone bank, or walk the neighborhood talking with your neighbors about the upcoming election and what it may mean to the current health care delivery and financing structure.

As I'm hearing, this is the most important election cycle we've had since 1980. We need to make sure that as insurance professionals we are doing all we can to ensure the greatest nation in the world continues to be a leader in innovative medical technology which allows our citizens the most advanced health care available via the finest financial funding mechanisms in a free market format.

Let's roll up our sleeves and get busy!
